The Dan Bulkley Track Project

The Southern Oregon University Athletic Department is engaging in a fund raising effort to secure a minimum of $100,000. This money will upgrade the track and field facility in former head coach Dan Bulkley's name.

The campaign will conclude with a ceremony to re-name the current facility "Dan Bulkley Track" during the Fall of 2012.

Coach Bulkley is recognized by the Southern Oregon community as a foundational architect for the decades of success of the track and field program at the University. In a coaching career that spanned 22 years, Coach Bulkley's teams won seven conference and three NAIA Northwest Regional Championships. His athletes captured 117 individual titles. In addition, eleven athletes garnered NAIA All-American honors, and two won national NAIA titles.

This campaign calls upon friends, alums and former co-workers who recognize the impact Coach Bulkley has had as an educator and coach. You will be honoring a legacy as well as providing tangible benefits to the department.
